From Mr. Purves . . .

My congratulations to the yearbook staff on producing a fine record of our year at North Lambton. This is a momento you will cherish in your later years.

Your years at North Lambton have been your opportunity to become involved. Involvement often refers to your extra-curricular activities but also to your involvement with your friends here at school.

This year you have shown happiness and sorrow. Your involvement as friends and leaning on one another for support in joy and sorrow is a model to carry through your life.

B. Purves

Chad Tells All . . .

S.A.C. in 1992-93

Another awesome year gone by! I hope every student can take this yearbook off their shelf in the future and remember the great year spent at NLSS.

It was my pleasure to have been president of the Student Affairs Council for 1992-93, serving the students of NLSS with new and exciting ideas. Some of these included Casey "The Bones" Jones - hypnotism, Moga - Wet and Wild, Halloween Week, Spring Fever, laser light shows at video dances, the charity tub, and the NLSS school stereo system purchased to provide lunchtime entertainment.

I wish to extend my personal thanks to my executive, our staff advisor Mr. Shafer, and all members of S.A.C. for their diligence and dedication, and the North Lambton teaching and custodial staff for all their cooperation with S.A.C. activities.

To everyone at North Lambton: best of luck with your future endeavours.

Sincerely,
Chad Thompson

HALLOWEEN WEEK

Halloween Week at NLSS was full of spunk and incredible school spirit as the students of North Lambton watched the daring teams test their skills and luck at the activities organized by S.A.C. The student body got a kick out of seeing their friends and fellow students soaked by "Bobbing for Stuff", covered in goo by "Pumpkin Carving", wrapped in toilet paper in "The Mummy Wrap" and of course, everyone's favourite "Trick or Treat" (the trick being a pie in the face). The only grade nine team, consisting of Pat Schlegel, Vicky Gibson, Sherry Davies and Stewart Bannister are to be commended for their courage. The only teacher's team didn't have much luck but we all had a good laugh. The winners were the Halloween Hellions (Sarah Britton, Tara Fraleigh, Jason Wassman and Dan Sageman). The week ended with the traditional "sock-hop" in the gymnasium with North Lambton's best dancers strutting their stuff in costume.

SHEER LAUGHTER

Sheer Laughter: An adjective used to describe the events on the stage November 12, 1992 in North Lambton's cafeteria. As the lights went down, the cafeteria was transformed into a distinguished Dinner Theater. Hosted by Jeff Farrington and Andrew Monk, this comical presentation of the battle of the sexes had the audience rolling in the isles with laughter. The show included North Lambton's Vocal Connection and the Grade Eleven Drama Class. Special thanks go to Director Mrs. Morrison and Musical Director Mr. Williams.

ANOTHER YEAR OF GRADE NINES

Do you seniors out there remember your first week of school? Or how about last year's niners - do you remember that awesome feeling of actually getting to high school? (Which, thanks to a full year of homework and killer tests, is gone now.) Thanks to S.A.C. and A.A., last year's grade nines had an introduction to North Lambton Secondary School that will stick in their memories for a long time.

The first event exclusively for niners was Grade Nine Orientation, held during the first week of school. The participants oriented themselves to the school by going on a scavenger hunt through the halls, and then oriented themselves to their fellow students by competing in wacky games in the gym.

S.A.C. held the first dance of the year on September 18, 1992. The Frosh Dance was a huge success; the D.J.s played their stuff for a packed cafeteria, and the new niners showed North Lambton how great they could dance. The evening was topped off by the crowning of the Frosh Prince and Princess.

The Athletic Association introduced the new students to N.L.S.S. sports during the Grade Nine Olympics. Niners competed in events ranging from long jump to races, to javelin and discus. The all around boy's winner was Allen Price (his friends insisted that his success was due to his running shoes), and the top female athlete was Jana Schram.

Another frosh school activity was Slave Day; September 17, 1992. Rules were reversed for one day while the seniors had to submit to every wish of their grade nine masters. That day of special service soon ended, however, and the niners had to face the reality of high school courses and cruel seniors. A message to this year's grade tens; you are new allowed to dish out the kind of treatment you got last year on the new group of niners. ENJOY!

NLSS Students Blossom

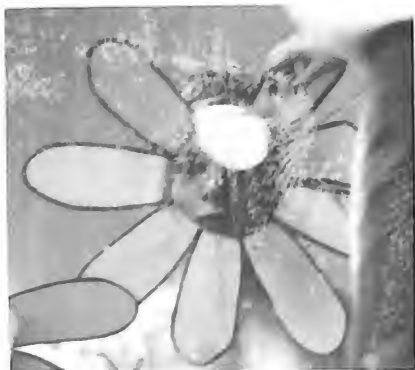

STUDENT TEAMS COMPETE IN SPRING FEVER '93

Most of us think of spring fever as time at home in bed alternating between hot and cold sweats with Mom coming in every five minutes forcing more chicken soup down our throats. The students of NLSS will no longer need to dread this time of year. Thanks to SAC, we had a refreshing change. At lunch times during Spring Fever week, the majority of the student body watched nine teams compete in four zany events.

In the Season Relay, the team members had to don clothing from the different seasons, run around the stage and tag the next team member waiting in line. In Flower Power the teams had to split into guys and gals on opposite sides of the stage. The gals had to run first with a small cup of water across the stage and pour it into the guys' mouths, then they had to pop a balloon to retrieve an Alkaselzer tablet. The unfortunate guys had to dissolve the tablet in their mouths (no swallowing allowed) and spit it into the buckets. Gross!

Fly On The Wall was possibly the most entertaining of the stunts. The lightest member of each team was duct-taped to the wall. Congratulations to Mary Greiner who managed to stay attached for five minutes total! The last event was Twister. The top four teams twisted themselves into pretzel-like shapes and suffered agonizingly until all were eliminated.

by Ellen Bruce

Top Right: This is the only way to keep Mary Greiner at school. Above: Pansy Mike Doornbosch seriously needed that Alkaselzer. Right: Heather Warren looks pretty lucky compared to the twisted bodies of some other twisters. Far Right: Clockwise from Top Left: Wes Forgie, Jeremy Jamieson, Scott Forgie (the drool is definitely you!) and R.J. Milne.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 23 to Jan. 20)

Although you seem to be selective in your love life, you do not commit easily; but with a lot of hard work you always reach your goals. A good match would be one who shares your desires and a dual career would not be out of the question. Age does not sway your choice of a mate. Virgo or Taurus or even a mate of the same sign could provide a lasting relationship and Cancer could give you the imagination and sentiment you often need.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 22)

You are constantly seeking new adventure in life through travel, reading and exploring. Your reluctance to commit is caused by your love for freedom, but once attached to someone, you make a wonderful mate. A relationship with a sign like Scorpio or Taurus who won't allow you your personal freedom would not last long. Getting together with Aries, Leo or Gemini would be your best bet.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

You are courageous and magnetic. With intense feelings and a smouldering temperament hidden under a calm front, you attract the opposite sex. Your excess of energy helps you to keep up with any mate, but for a long-term relationship you would be best with Cancer or Pisces who are adaptable. Taurus could help you acquire the good things in life. Getting together with Leo, who likes to boss or Aquarius (too remote for you) would not likely be a good idea.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

You are romantic and artistic and flourish with companionship but wilt if left alone. Your procrastination can often loose you quite a compatible mate. You are quite popular with all signs of the Zodiac because of your flair for listening instead of chattering.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

As a methodical and discriminative sign, you are cool and detached and mostly tend to steer out of the way of romances. This gives you a chance to carefully choose anyone you become involved with and he/she must be intelligent and organized. Capricorn or Pisces would suit you well, while Aries would be stressful and Gemini and Sagittarius would try your patience.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You are more social than any other sign and spend most of your time with friends and groups. Because of your love for freedom, your relationships can go out as fast as a match and at a moments notice. When with the right person, you can be a very devoted partner though you are not inclined to build strong foundations and can pick up sticks at any time. The best match for you could be Gemini, Sagittarius or Libra and possibly Leo if you work together.

Having difficulties deciding who you should be with? Looking for someone who shares your abilities and interests? Perhaps this page can give you a hint in which direction to turn. To find your Zodiac sign, look at the dates in the smaller squares.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

As a water sign, you are sensitive and versatile as well as unpredictable. Often the mystery sign of the Zodiac, you and your illusive but affectionate nature act as a magnet to the opposite sex. You are very indecisive in choosing someone who can get along with your sensitive nature. Cancer or Scorpio could do this for you, and Virgo could add the practical streak you often lack.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Your choice of the right mate is important to your happiness. Because Aries has a large capacity for leadership, they therefore may clash with other signs with a need to dominate such as another Aries. You are bored by indecisive Pisces or clinging Cancer. But Sagittarius and Leo whirl you into exciting and romantic ventures and Libra gives you the calm and peace that you sometimes lack.

Gemini, Libra and Aquarius are AIR signs and therefore mix well with other signs. Two of these in a match will likely float about on an intellectual cloud nine. Air and Water do not mix well. Together they produce bubbles which just float away. However Air and Fire work well because Air fans Fire into greater activity.

The WATER signs are Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces. They are romantic and imaginative and mix well with each other. Water blends well with Earth because water softens Earth's hardness while Earth moulds water into solid expression.

Aries, Leo and Sagittarius are FIRE signs and have an adventurous nature and make good matches. Being of the same element they mix well with each other, however fire does not mix well with water as in one combination, fire is put out and in the other, water is made to boil.

EARTH types are Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn. These ones are down to earth, dependable, excel as homemakers and mix well with each other. Earth types do not usually mix well with Fire as Earth tends to smother Fire. When combined with Air signs they merely raise a cloud of dust.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21)

You are dependable and practical and are definitely drawn to a partner of financial stability. You need a partner who shares in your artistic sense, whether in art or music. Your impeccable promptness and organized routine could be severely taxed by the unconventional Aquarius or volatile Sagittarius and Gemini signs. Your best bet for a mate would be loyal Virgo, Capricorn, or Scorpio who aim for the comfort and luxury you need.

GEMINI

(May 22 to Jun. 21)

Being restless but versatile and seemingly always on the move, the best partner for you would be one who could allow you to follow your interests and who could cope with your rapid changes. During your teenage years you will have many admirers but the best mate for you would be an intellectual such as Sagittarius, Libra or Aquarius. Scorpio or Taurus could be too possessive for you.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

You are affectionate, enterprising and full of self-esteem. Virgo, Capricorn and Taurus would not be good matches as they are too boring for you. The more exciting Sagittarius or the ambitious Aries would be good matches.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Your relationships seem to follow the path of your moods but when you find true love you refuse to let go. The best mate would be Scorpio or Taurus, even Capricorn, they would provide security and an anchoring force. Pisces could stimulate your imagination. The fiery signs could keep you boiling too much.

On November 18, 1992, N.L.S.S.s Class of '93 hosted the eighth annual Airband competition. Performances took up the whole afternoon (much to our relief) as we watched and cheered our favourite acts. There was something for everyone to make this year's Airband a success.

Carol Huxley, Julie Lester and Angie McLeish blew us away with their first place rendition of TLC's "Friends"

Other performances ranged from Guns 'n Roses to Kriss Kross to The Irish Rovers, to the unforgettable Simon Freer as Right Said Fred singing "I'm Too Sexy". This last act won the Booby Prize and gave rise to a sudden fad; "Simon Freer locker posters."

All in all the show was very exciting, ensuring that the Ninth Annual Airband will be looked forward to!

Above: Who is that dashing Eagle in the turkey suit? Could it be Tom Cruise, or are we just dreaming? Yup, we must be, because it's Ed Moley!

Left: Hey! "What About Those Friends"! Way to go Julie, Carol and Angie. Hope you had fun together with that money!

Right: Amy Hill and Anita Mallick "Freed our Minds" for a while during their performance up on stage.

Above: This scandalous twosome (Nicole Gill and Jason MacNeil) did a wild version of "Let's Rock and Roll" by C&C Music Factory. A little too wild was the opinion of the judges.

Commencement '92

THE GRADUATING CLASS

On October 9, 1992, the gymnasium was filled with many people and lots of pride and achievement. This commencement ceremony was presented by Class of '92 who spent hours decorating the gymnasium for the event.

Top Right: Shana Smith takes a short break for an amusing pose. Top Left: Leana, valedictorian, gives everyone a bright, proud smile. Middle Row Left: Mark Carruthers is shown accepting the John Prout Memorial Award. Middle Row Center: Colette looks extremely happy as she accepts her awards. Middle Row Right: Here's Dean Palmer accepting another award! Bottom Left: Lynn Adams appears to be thoroughly enjoying herself. Bottom Right: Jim Stewart gives the camera a look of accomplishment and success. Congratulations to all!

Thou Art Fishified

On November 26, The Class of '93 hosted the annual creature smooching contest. Week long collections amounted to a total of $236.00. Now, for those who aren't in the know, every year students can try to get revenge on the teacher of their choice by contributing spare change in a can bearing the teacher's name. The teacher with the most money gets to kiss an unruly beast. This year, Mrs. Peterson puckered for a giant goldfish and gave new meaning to the term "fishlips". Runners-up were Mr. Moergeli and Mr. Milliquet. This year's proceeds went to the Caitlin Hill Fund.

Top Left: Dave Maybury's arm goes to it's fullest extent to contribute a handful of sweaty spare change to Mr. Moergeli's "Pucker For The Sucker" collection can.

Above: Dan Sageman yells "It's a boy!" Joke intended, but Bryan Davies definitely got that one. Afterwards, Mrs. Peterson couldn't be reached for a comment.

Middle Left: Cindy Rumford, Dan Sageman, Heather Warren, and Heather McLeish talk up an encouraging storm to the students before the main event.

SPORTS

A Dangerous Game?

SENIOR GIRLS

The Senior Girls Soccer Team started their season playing Northern in a winter storm on April 17th. The rest of the season was milder, with the team playing five regular season games and a tournament in Sarnia. The scores for regular season were: 3 losses; 1-0, 2-1, and 2-0, and 2 ties; 2-2 and 1-1. The Sarnia tournament saw the girls get one loss and one tie. As a team, Coach Moloy says they were "very defensive. They worked hard, and this group worked very well together. Out of seven games, only ten goals were scored against us, and that's pretty good. What they may have been lacking in skills they made up in heart." Special mention goes out to goalie Trina Passmore for a great job.

JUNIOR GIRLS

"They played hard, with lots of enthusiasm. I think the girls knew the odds, playing against the Sarnia teams; they're tough. Our team showed good sportsmanship and had positive feelings, even when they lost."

Coach Moloy

The Junior Girls Soccer team finished fifth in the regular season, with one win, one tie, and three losses.

Soccer at NLSS

SENIOR BOYS

This year's version of the North Lambton Senior Boys Soccer Team turned out to be the finest collection of talent this school has produced in quite some time. Just a year ago, losses of 6-0 and 8-0 were not out of the question against schools whose players competed in community soccer programs. This year, however, the Senior Eagles possessed an abundance of skill. A special mention to Jeff Farrington who sacrificed his jaw to the game.

WRESTLING

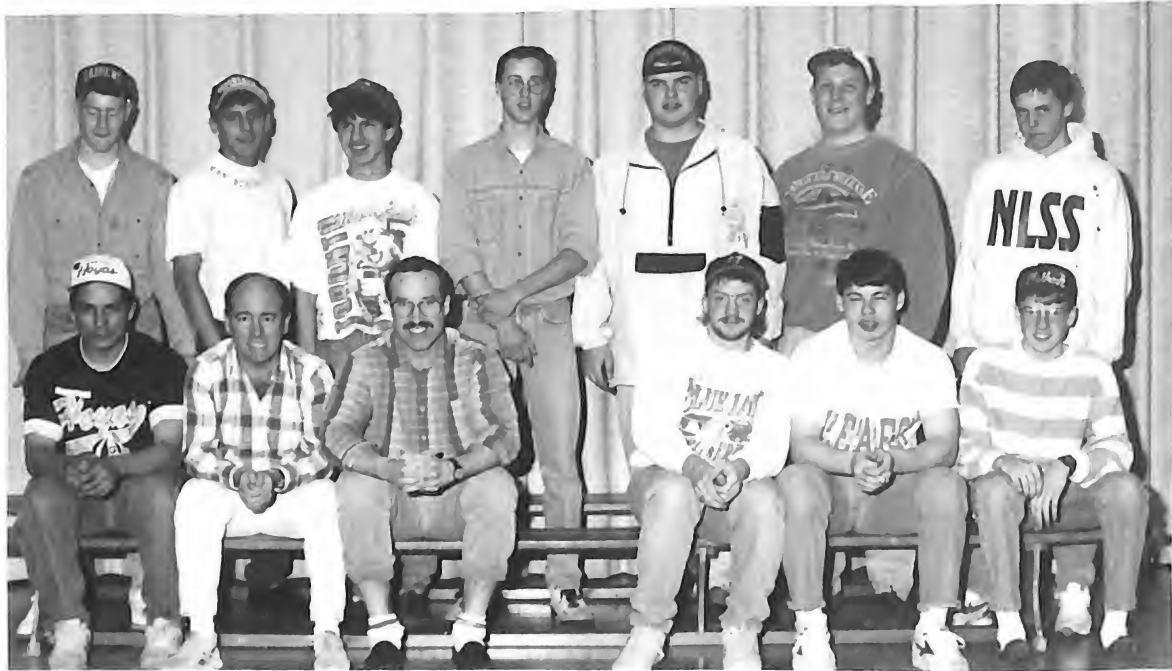

Practicing four days a week paid off for the NLSS Wrestling Team this year. The team competed in the L.S.S.A.A. Championships at St. Pats on February 19th, and four wrestlers, Kevin Goodhand, Adam Boyd, Kevin Lester and Peter Cloud placed in the top four of their weight classes. Coach Moloy says wrestlers show a lot of sportsmanship when they compete. They respect each other because they are aware of the dedication and hard work that makes a good wrestler. A quote from wrestler Kevin Lester: "We would like to send a very special thank-you out to the best coach we could have asked for, Mr. Ed Moloy."

HOCKEY

From October to the end of March, the NLSS Hockey Team took over the Forest Arena on Tuesday evenings to practise this great Canadian game. The Eagles played one game against Petrolia, and lost a close 6-5. The student-teacher match saw the team thoroughly beat the staff. Coach Milliquet suggests that to be ready for the next match, some staff members should go to summer hockey camp. He also encourages any hockey players to come out to the '94 season. The team hopes to play more exhibition games against other schools.

BOYS CURLING A TEAM

WOSSA Champs!

The 1993 Season was undoubtedly the most memorable in the history of NLSS Curling. According to coach Jim Kaemph (or "Chief" as he is known by the curlers), the Boys A Team threw 768 rocks a total of three miles to clinch the L.S.S.A.A. Championship. Then, they proceeded to the Western Ontario Finals, where the boys curled to an amazing first place out of 57 high school teams. Other events for this group included the O.F.S.S.A. (provincial) championship in March, where the boys placed second.

"The boys were committed and did not flinch in the face of stiff competition. Above all we had fun."

Jim Kaemph

GIRLS CURLING

This year's NLSS Girl's team had a challenging season. All of the games were very close. Five girls made up the team this year. Sherry Davies began the season, but due to an injury, became a spectator. Michelle Hodgins also played on the team, helping us in our success.

Kerstin Boernecke has great talent for the sport and played with much enthusiasm. Ellen Bruce played vice solidly all season long. Becky Philpott curled well throughout the season. I would like to thank Sharon Philpott for coaching us.

BOYS CURLING B TEAM

This Bantam Boys Curling team should be called "The Guys in Braces." Each member (with his braces) contributed their skill and enthusiasm to win the B division of L.S.S.A.A.. According to coaches Mr. Kaemph and Mr. Purves, the team has tremendous potential and worked hard.

Volleyball at NLSS

SENIOR BOYS

We had an excellent season of volleyball, however it was quite damp for the coaches. Most of the team will be returning for the fall. Clinton Bressette is learning to play over the summer and most of the team will be refining their skills playing beach. The team would like to thank Mr. Illman, Mr. Purves and the physical ed. department for their tremendous support. This season we finished third in WOSSA and third in league play. We are looking forward to hosting WOSSA next year. We will be losing only a few players for next season. They are "Pretty Boy" Mike Meadows, Jesse "Pie in the face" Morrice and Bill "The Terrible" Lester. Corey Carter and Jeff Brush may be returning to play next season.

SENIOR GIRLS

A Tournament in the Life of . . .

The senior girls played well in the regular season to finish fifth. During the league tournament, the Eagles had to overcome the odds and try to move into a fourth play-off position. After many gruelling battles, the Eagles managed to secure the berth. The Eagles then travelled to Petrolia to take on the first-place Lancers. The first game was a tight one, with the Eagles losing 12-15. The Lancers were then humiliated when it took just three Eagle servers (Tawnya, Heather and Terri) to win the second game 15-4. In the third game, the Lancers came out fighting, and quickly ran the score up to 12-4. Our team fought back when Frankee served for seven straight points. Unfortunately the Lancers came back and won the match for the finals.

MIDGET GIRLS

Regular season for the Midget Girls ended in a fourth place finish. The girls went on to another fourth place in the L.S.S.A.A. tournament. Scores were two losses; 7-15 and 15-4, and one win; 15-8. On Saturday, February the 6th, the team was in London for the 7th annual Beal Tech Tournament. After a rough morning, they finished fourth in their pool. This allowed them to advance to the semi-finals. Here again they had two easy games against Stratford St. Michael and proceeded on to destroy London Lucas winning two of the three games. A victorious year for the Midget Girls.

This year's track and field team was not only the largest team in the school, but it was also the most successful one in the team's history. The team began training for the indoor season in November and attended several meets including: the Christmas Open in Windsor, three meets at UWO in London, and York University in Toronto. The team trained four to five nights a week and their hard work and dedication began to show as medals and ribbons were collected from the numerous outdoor meets: Forest City Prep in London, LIT in Petrolia, Bluevale Relays in Kitchener, and St. Clair Field Relays in Sarnia. An outstanding two days of competition at LSSAA also made history at North Lambton. Fifty-two individuals were won: Midget Girls - Wendy Richards (1st javelin, 6th shotput), Jana Schram (2nd javelin, 1st discus, 3rd shotput), Trish Vance (2nd triple jump), Cara Wellington (5th triple jump), Ann Marie Zavitz (4th discus), Tina Ingold (2nd shotput), Christine Quinn (6th high jump) Junior Girls - Nadine Shaw (4th 300m hurdles, 4th 80m hurdles, 3rd 100m), Melanie Roder (2nd high jump), Rebecca Stubbs (4th high jump), 4x100m (Angie

In overall points at LSSAA: Jana Schram finished 4th in Midget Girls, Diane Ferguson finished 4th in Senior Girls, Jim Wardle finished 4th in Junior Boys, and Joe Stewart finished 2nd in Junior Boys.

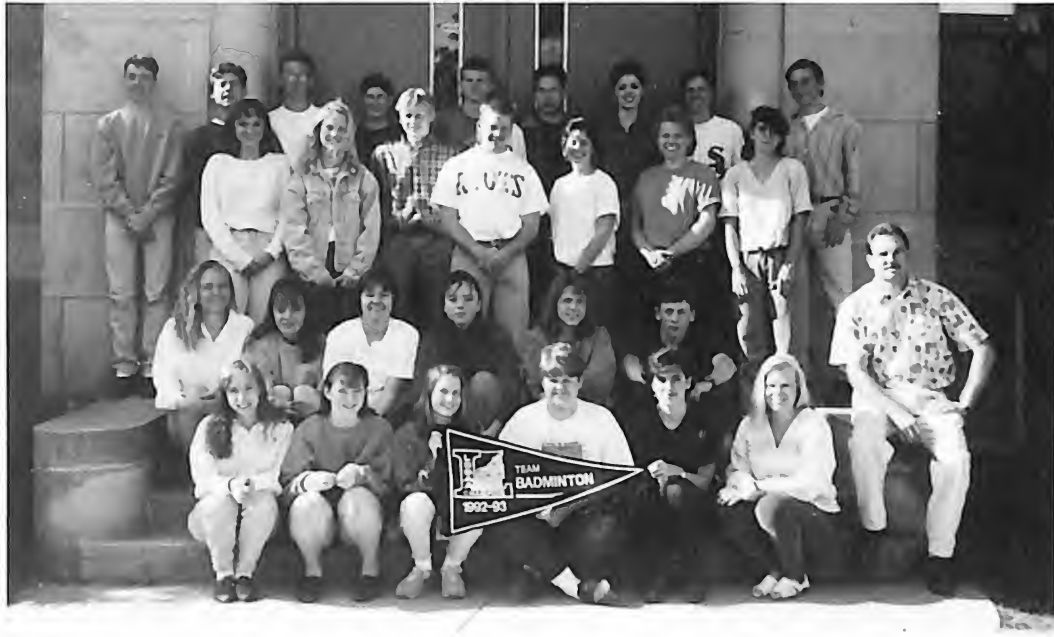

Never before at North Lambton has our track team won an age division. Congratulations goes to the Junior Boys as they won LSSAA. Excellent job boys - we have the plaque for a year!

North Lambton was represented by it's finest and largest team at WOSSA on May 18 and 19. Again our largest ever qualified for OFSAA regionals - Jeremy Doornbosch (4th 110m hurdles), Trent Stellingwerff (5th 800m), Jim Wardle (5th 3000m), Jana Schram (2nd shotput, 6th javelin), Wendy Richards (5th javelin), Diane Ferguson (2nd discus, 4th shotput), Melanie Richards (6th high jump), 4x100m (Jim Wardle, Kurt Bannister, Jeremy Doornbosch, Trent Stellingwerff) - 6th.

Congratulations on a most incredible season. You have earned the respect of Lambton County as you have been deemed "The Little School that Could". The coaches would like to thank you all for an enjoyable, successful, and at times, hilarious season.

GOLF

We don't have the Great White Shark here, but we do have the Great White Shank (Mr. Sands). He came back from Florida fresh from his 114th game and tore up the golf course. The league went up to Seaforth in the fall and found lots of field corn. However, we didn't find many birdies. (There is always next year.) A special mention to Ned Wellington who plays Star Trek golf: he hits the ball where no man has gone before, and to Mr. Gordon, a new recruit. He has improved tremendously, and if he could get his own golf clubs, he could become a world class golfer (or at least as good as Mr. Purves)!

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Ever wonder how the phys. ed department knows how many points you have towards your school letter? Or how in the world they figure out what house emerges victorious at the end of the year? No, the phys. ed teachers don't stay until nine every night with calculators smoking (although they do work hard). This major job of organizing athletics is done by the athletic association. Members do the calculator thing, run the intramurals, fund-raise for all those bus trips between competitions, and run food booths at volleyball tournaments. And the 1993 members did an incredible job.

EAGLE SPIRIT

After a hostile takeover bid, the students in Room 207 emerged victorious with total control of their own paper. Mr. Lynch continued on as the censor board and Mr. Muir as consultant. SEARS FESTIVAL

Students travelled to Chatham at the beginning of March to compete in the annual Sears Drama Festival, held at the Chatham Cultural Centre. NLSS brought with them two plays, and a roster of the school's finest actors. Doctor Fate, an original play by Mary Greiner was well received, and Love is a Hot Fudge Sundae yielded laughs and much interest. Two awards were given to NLSS students: an award of merit of Jackie VanDeVen for her performance as Rosie in Love Is . . . and an award of excellence to Mary Greiner for writing.

CARD CLUB

It is any coincidence that Forest's only Miata-driving card dealer (Mr. Richardson) is in charge of North Lambton's card club? These guys got together Thursdays at noon to trade, buy, compare and price their sports cards. They also read up on current trends in this recently booming hobby. The club will operate again next year if there is interest.

S.L.A.M.

S.L.A.M., or Students Living After Messiah, probably meet more often than any other student organization in the school. They meet for a time of prayer every morning in a hallway on second floor and in the A.V. room. The group holds meetings on Thursdays at 11:45 AM to share exciting things that have happened in their lives, study the bible, pray, and have great discussions about topics that relate to every teenager today. Throughout the year they have participated in Airband, distributed bibles to Christians in the school who needed them, and supported a needy lady in the community.

ENVIRONMENTAL CLUB

Did you know that North Lambton owns four acres of rainforest? The Environmental Club does: they bought it. This small but dynamic group of concerned students also raised money for the Canadian Wildlife Fund, and Third World Countries through the 30 Hour Famine. The Environmental Club is currently involved in an ongoing study (in partnership with Novacor) on what chemicals are transported on Highway 21 through Forest. All students who are interested in the club are invited out to join in 1993-94.

DART CLUB

The Dart Club was established in 1991-92 and meets every day for the full lunch hour, (unless Mr. Harrington has sin-bin duty) in Rm. 106. Any student in the school, male or female, can join the club and learn to play darts well. Since the club began, five students have competed in major adult tournaments.

The club was instituted, originally, to provide students with a recreational skill that they can participate in when they leave school. Another advantage of darts is that it teaches math skills in a recreational setting.

The NLSS Dart Club is the only school dart club in South-western Ontario. Give the club a try - it is an equal opportunity group that could put you at the top.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The music department has been as busy as ever this year. The pace was fast and furious for most of the second semester, with fund raising, planning and rehearsing. N.L.S.S. was even introduced, for the first time, to an Intermediate Jazz Ensemble.

This group of aspiring musicians was formed from the Intermediate Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Dumais. This is not a traditional stage band. There are flutes taking the place of the alto sax, clarinets in place of trumpets and the baritones and french horns play trombone music. It is the hope of the music department that this will be offered as a credit next year. The group met three times a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday at lunch to rehearse in the music portable. This group of students did a fine job in the Spring Concert, where they made their big debut.

Senior Band, under the direction of Karin Oppen, played on a number of occasions including Commencement, Christmas Music Night, Spring Concert, and Remembrance Day, when Denyse Woods played "The Last Post", and of course, let's not forget the International Music Festival in Chicago. This group practiced Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at noon in the music room.

The Senior Stage Band, under the direction of Mr. Williams, practices in the mornings, before classes. Over the past year it has gained a lot of publicity by playing a variety of gigs, from dances to other high schools. Stage band is offered as a credit.

The Concert Choir and Vocal Connection which are also under the direction of Mr. Williams, are the two vocal programs offered at our school. The Concert Choir, consisting of about eighty singers, competed in the IMF in Chicago this past April. The Vocal Connection, along with the Concert Choir, toured many places this past year. Some of these places included the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts, local public schools, churches, and just about anywhere they were invited.

On the night of May 27, the year was brought to a close with our annual Music Banquet. The food was excellent, the people were friendly and the bad jokes were in full swing. The saga of "Dave" songs was also brought to a close with one last song, accompanied by Dan Speck on guitar. The major awards for the night were given to Sandra White for Outstanding Musician, Lorrie Emery received the Outstanding Leadership award and Heather McLean received Most Dedicated Junior Music Student.

Special mention goes to this year's music executive. Without the hard work and dedication of these students, this year's music events would not have occurred. Also, a special thanks to Lorrie Wernham and Michelle Arnsby for helping out with much of the organizing this year.

LAMBTON COUNTY PHYSICS OLYMPICS

Every year, North Lambton becomes the physics capital of Lambton County. Near the end of May we hosted the annual Physics Olympics. Our team competed to an overall second place finish, helped by Jennifer's artistic physics poster, Marty's interesting accuracy at the target shoot and Warren's awesome slingshot ability out on the soccer field. Dick's Last Resort a Battleground

AS NLSS TAKES CHICAGO

It all started out at 6AM, April 22, 1993. No one was quite alive, including the "caffeine-aholic". The trip included daily meals at Mickey D's, so get a life, Lisa! No Linda, drive throughs are for cars. What exactly is the "sexual aura", anyway?

At Andy's Jazz Restaurant, we enjoyed some fantastic live jazz, and the cream fight between two not-so-inconspicuous sopranos. Then we visited the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Lynch changed his seat without consulting the box office, so I think it's time for a detention. What about that outspoken, ill-outfitted woman? Do we really talk that much?

The first night at the hotel, a couple of rooms tried "Balcony Hopping", some of us made "Balcony Buddies", Ian forgot how to sleep, and Toad turned out to be a violent sleeper, beating Jeff (the milk-shake king) right out of his bed.

The next day, we went on the "Untouchables Tour", and saw all the famous sites from way back, when Chicago teemed with gangsters. Knuckles, one of our guides, decided to take a woman for all of her money, and tried to quicken downtown Chicago traffic. Did anyone notice a garlic smell on the bus? Or a certain green-faced personality, possibly resulting from a bad cigar (fondly known as "Caponies")? Honourable Mention goes out to Uncle Mel for his miraculous parallel parking of the "Bladder Bus".

By the way, how did the three male individuals manage to get field-side seats at the Cub's game? We narrowly made the record of no hospital visits on account of a very fast, unnoticed foul ball zooming towards Kim and Laura. NLSS, what is a wave? Is it actually possible at Wrigley Field? For those of you who aren't baseball fans: weren't those dolphins at the aquarium adorable?

Dick's Last Resort was an ideal location for the music department to dine, with activities ranging from flying wet naps to shrimp wars, with bibs to cover it all up.

Oh yeah, we did sing and play, and did a magnificent job. The hot-shot adjudicators were actually somewhat impressed.

At the International Music Festival Banquet, we ate, cheered, were merry . . . and got down. One anonymous librarian was especially entertaining to the crowd, much to the dismay of his embarrassed colleague.

That night, we didn't sleep much, crushed some heads, had a couple of pillow fights and new couples were in the making. By the way, exactly who was that woman at the door of room 464?

As you can imagine, most of us were comatose the next morning as we headed over to the Museum of Science and Industry. Kate took this opportunity to develop her clucking skills, and Mr. Dumais discovered he had "lost that lovin' feeling". That giant heart wasn't all it was cracked up to be, but we made many wild and wonderful purchases at the gift shop. Ms. Oppen made use of Alistair's outrageous specs to stun the entire McDonald's staff and clientele.

On the ride home, we were introduced to the drag queen Shauna Davis, whom Tom found quite attractive.

Thank goodness we finally made it across the border. Now tell me, who would actually go to Chicago and back in one day and only spend $20? Oh and let's not forget - a huge thank-you all around to those brave enough to escort us on our fabulous escapade.

Class of ...93

Hi! I'm Michelle Smith, president of the graduating class of 1993. Class of '93 is a group of graduating students (anyone graduating can join) who organize graduating events and fund-raise for various causes.

Throughout the 1992-93 school year, Class of '93 has organized and been involved in a variety of activities. We began the year by welcoming the Class of '92 graduates home for their commencement. (see page 42) We then organized Pucker for the Sucker (page 44), and the annual Airband (page 16), which were both tremendously successful.

Next on our agenda was the "Jingle Bell Ball" which was enjoyed by many of our students. A special congratulations goes to Michelle Chapman and Warren Heist upon receiving Snow Prince and Princess.

Our final event of the year was the senior prom. The theme we chose for the night was "Almost Paradise" and the cafeteria was imaginatively decorated with ancient Greek pillars, waterfalls, fountains, and a variety of plants. (see page 37)

In closing, I'm sure I speak for everyone in Class of '93 when I say that we thoroughly enjoyed our years at North Lambton. I wish everyone the best of luck and may you all have success in your future endeavours.

TAMPA

but the day

Rather than bore you with paragraphs upon paragraphs of the Senior Girls' Volleyball trip, I've summed it up in the following rhyme:

The sunny vacation was disguised as a volleyball trip. We took off from Detroit in a big air ship; It took us to Florida where the weather was unfair; Instead of sun, there was windy cold air. The first night was long and the service was weak, but what do you expect: It was a Holiday Inn Suite. The next day was nothing but hard shopping, and Michelle Chapman spent all her money without stopping. Monday was a day of daring canoe punting but Judy and Miss Leckie were more interested in turtle hunting. We looked for alligators everywhere and we really found a few dozen . . . I swear! But how could the day be complete without girls going shopping? It wasn't funny after poor Kevin McCallister's head went popping. Tuesday was the day we had been waiting for; We were off to the beach for six hours or more. At the beach we wanted to play volleyball, but some jerk in pink shorts made the call. That is, until Miss Leckie told him where to go. The guy in the pink shorts said he wasn't going to play no mo'. Wednesday we talked Heather into going to Busch Gardens, and we all rode the merry-go-round like a bunch of kindergartens. That night we went to watch an exciting game of Jai-Lai (High Lie). Actually, it was boring and we wanted to say good-bye; But Mrs. Johnson was gung-ho to bet so we had to sit for another exhilarating set. Thursday we went to Kissimmee to get fed, for eating at the hotel was something we all dread. After eating the Henderson's out of house and home, We jumped in the vans and headed for the Dome; Well, not actually the Dome, but a Leafs hockey game. Our spirits were high, but the seats were pretty lame. After the game, we returned to our rooms for the night, And a couple of girls engaged in a full-scale pillow fight. Then came the day we dreaded most: Friday our very last day on the coast. But that day all the teams had a beach volleyball tourney, Where poor Jayne got bopped and got a little woozy. Sore and burnt in unique designs, We all headed to Ponderosa to dine. Ponderosa was the place where we had a really goofy waiter, He gave us some pictures to colour, but put only Judy's up later. When we got back to the hotel, "Cabin Fever" set in, Because in room 365, a fight would soon begin. While a battle of words went on in that room Terri was telling the rest of us to go to sleep or meet our doom. Of course, that was enough to even shut up Heather's snoring, so we rested that night and waited for morning. The morning had come way too fast, As soon we did hear a horrifying blast. But where were the people from 365? We didn't know if they were dead or alive. But in the end everyone was ready to play. Even if it was our very last day. As we fast forward to our plane ride home, No one wanted to leave, so we groaned and moaned. We arrived back at Canada, free at last, And the entire trip had been a blast. We drove home snoozing without a care, But someone was still finishing their chocolate eclair.

Academics are an important part of learning but all students should experience co-op sometime during their education. There are work placements in almost any field of interest. N.L.S.S. students have repaired planes and cars, taught school, worked on a newspaper, at a playhouse and in law and security. The list is endless.

Of special note this year is N.L.S.S.'s first female mechanic placement, Julia Campbell.

Co-op provides valuable work experience, insight into a future career and possibly an intriguing summer job. Like Julia, there might even be a little bit of fame involved. If you are interested in co-op during high school, talk to a guidance counselor, the co-op director (Mr. Muir) or approach one of the many co-op students that attend North Lambton. We'd love to help.

CASEY JONES

... And Duane Golder says "Noskiuniformski". On December 1st, Casey "The Bones" Jones used the power of suggestion on students picked randomly from the audience. After being led through some powerfully suggestive exercises some of the minor hypnotism activities were proven to be real. Casey directed the participants to concentrate and focus on his voice with words that go something along the lines of "your hands are going to be so stuck together, you will all look so silly." The audience had a fit, especially at you, Brett Galliford. Maybe your hands should have been video-taped for a super-glue commercial.

After a few more exercises like this, the "victims" were ready to get into some heavier stuff. O.K. . . . "Now we're relaxing on the beach, by the ocean, basking in the ultra-violet rays . . . aah, nice and relaxed . . . BANG! HEY, SOMEONE JUST HIT YOU ON THE HEAD WITH A FRISBEE! We can all agree that Dwayne Thunder showed us one of those little gestures that the majority of the student body can't believe went unpunished! (Dwayne's excuse - "But sir, I was hypnotised!")

Later, still on that beautiful beach beside the ocean, a boat full of the opposite sex goes by. Casey: "Get their attention!" Well congratulations to Melanie Recker. There's not a molecule of doubt that, if this had been real life, she would have gotten their attention.

Casey says "Now you're sitting on your living room sofa . . . eating popcorn . . . viewing the tube . . . with your sweetheart! "Now put your arm around your honney." Mike Tenhoeve swung that arm up and sat there with his invisible girl. Hmm, he seems pretty good at that, I wonder if he's used to hugging air.

One of the final scenerios of the presentation was when Casey said "When I auction off an object, one of the volunteers will believe that object is theirs." The auction started with Casey's mike stand, (donated by Madonna). Christy Sageman found this to be a problem. That mike stand donated by Madonna was hers! After a minor dispute, Christy got her mike stand.

Final congratulations go out to; karate master Krista Vanderheyden; Jeff Farrington, best at keeping that 50lb golden bowling ball from crashing through the floor; and lastly, the fastest handshaker, Joe Stewart.

That person could become one of your top ten best matches, possibly even your number one. But maybe the answers you gave were completely opposite to someone, creating your worst match. This all came about one morning when a questionnaire was distributed to homeroom for a computer dating service. The results were sold at lunchtime from February 9th to 12th causing students to all gather round one another to tease or congratulate their friends on their matches. SNOW IN OCTOBER?

As the snow fell on the campus of North Lambton Secondary School on October 17, 1992 the students expressed their enthusiasm on the hopes of a snowday. The school administration was stupified, for they had come up with the annual speech on throwing snowballs two months ahead of schedule. Parts of the student body cheered at the prospect of two extra months of snowmobiling, skiing, and snowball fights while others were upset with all the extra snow-shovelling and still others were simply shocked.

N.L.S.S. Gets a Facelift

Did you ever wonder why the two English portables by the road seemed to be infested with bees every warm season? The answer for many years lay inside a huge maple tree by the parking lot. It seems that this tree was hollow and the home to a large bee colony. In late fall the school board decided the one-hundred-year-old tree was a hazard, and had it removed. The parking lot was finally paved at the same time, to the great relief of those students who are obsessive about clean cars. Other improvements in '92 included new lockers on first, a new library computer system (whether this is an improvement is debatable), and an addition to the auto shop.

by Lorraine Vandenberg

Top and Center Right: Workers excavate the foundations of an old house found in the middle of the parking lot.

Above: The last of the maple lies beside the portables.

Opposite Page: The old maple just before it came down.

Right: The new addition to the auto shop. Hidden behind the old wall, in the shop, Mr. Gordon is jumping up and down for joy.

MASS SUICIDE ENDS CULT

The historical and contemporary images of death camps aren't hard to conjure. In Bosnia-Herzegovina women have sex camps. Rape is part of policy of ethnic cleansing.

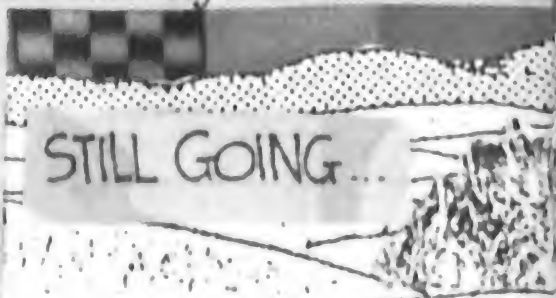

The suicide rate for natives is three times the Canadian average.

NLSS STUDENT POLL

Well, here it is, the NLSS student survey. Does it surprise you that a higher percentage of girls send obvious signals to a particular man of interest than do guys to that special girl? Or look at dish duty: 20% of girls listed it as their most hated activity, yet only 13% of the guys checked that choice off. For more details on how this information was collected, see page 86.

Someone looks into your room, they think you are:

	Guys	Girls
a neat freak	6.43%	2.62%
very organized	15.02	13.1
typical teenager	67.32	77.29
a pathetic slob	11.23	6.99

Generally speaking, your life so far has been:

	Guys	Girls
exciting	27.27%	19.65%
interesting	62.9	70.74
a struggle	9.95	7.86
about the same as an Eggplant's	5.88	1.75

Are you active in school activities?

	Guys	Girls
yes, very active	13.12%	13.1%
yes, somewhat	44.80	54.59
no, rarely active	27.15	25.33
no, not at all	14.93	6.99

What do you usually do after school?

	Guys	Girls
stay home	22.62%	23.58%
go to work	21.27	13.54
go out with friends	29.86	29.26
school sports or clubs	26.24	33.62

Working after school:

Do you like pets?

	Guys	Girls
yes, very much	40.25%	51.09%
depends on pet	51.92	46.29
no, not at all	6.01	2.18
only for dinner	1.82	0.44

“People ask me stuff like “What kind of car do your parents drive in Germany?” “How fast can you drive on the Autobahn?” “Do you eat Kraft Dinner in Germany?” I thought that was weird at first.

Things I like?

I like the Canadian flag, I think it was kind of cute.

I like choir.

They kicked me out of my choir in Germany because I can't sing.

Are you going to put that awful picture of me in the book? Chicago trip?

I snored . . .

Mr. Janes' french classes were funny!

I almost fell off my chair I was laughing so hard!

I like spare periods and lunch hour.

I really liked curling.

I liked those explosions in Mr. Hunt's lab.

Did he get mad?

Yes!

Can I say something?

I'd like to thank my host families, the Waldens in Thedford and the Fosters in Forest.

Say something else?

When I go home, I'll really miss Canada and all my friends here.

Who is Jane's Addiction?

March 3rd. When's yours?

. . . 17, why?

I want to meet a boy.

No, I can't drive here!

OK. Why do you want me to say wiener?

It's pork.

We go skiing all the time.

People ask me how I like their country.

The guys here?

. . . Well, they all have big noses.

Above Left: What an expression, Mr. Moergeli! You must have been really getting into the game.

Right: Who can tell what is going through Mr. Arthur's head during this first semester OAC course.

Left: Mr. Purves directs athletics out on the field.

Below: Crunch has a good day.

Left: Resource buddies Mr. Furtney and Mr. McCahill take a coffee stroll on first.

Above: Scandal!! Teachers caught napping in the staff room!! We understand how tiring teaching can get, but what are you doing with your foot, Mr. Sands?

"I Think This has Been The Strangest Yearbook Staff We've Ever Had."

Heard at Yearbook Meetings . . .

That's so cheesy!

We need more money.

Meagan, I can't crop this thing!

Are we staying late tonight?

Bec, you're supposed to push down those little buttons . . .

Who wants to go uptown to the photo place?

Hello? . . . Family Pizza? What's the biggest pizza we can get for under fifteen dollars?

I lost count.

Terese, he's madly in love with you.

I think our favourite word this year was cheesy.

I'm hungry.

Alright, get to work you guys.

Why does the photocopier give back nickels?

But it's so easy being cheesy!

This according to Becky Bressette, page layout designer, part-time photographer and photocopy technician. I couldn't say whether we were necessarily strange, but we definitely had some strange meetings. Before I go and thank everyone who needs to be thanked, I'd like to tell something about the production of this wonderful piece of Canadian-produced high-tech professionally-bound one hundred and twenty-eight page pure (only slightly edited) high school memory you hold in your hands.

If I made a list of everything that went into this book, it would probably start something like this: 3 rolls of film, 7 layout pads, 3 bottles of liquid paper, $12 000.00, 2 large pizzas, 500 photocopies . . . and so on. The list would probably take up this whole column. In short, a lot of time, creativity, mooched supplies, money, and hard work went into the 1992-93 Aurea Vincula.

To the staff: you guys were amazing. Forty years from now, people will still be pulling out this original yearbook you helped create. Those of you coming back next year; I am sure you won't let any cheesy titles slip by.

Thank-yous go out to several groups and individuals; The Forest Standard for some photos, Mrs. Lowe's note-taking class for advertising, Mrs. Fennner for letting us "borrow" your keys and the above-mentioned mooched supplies, Dave Dougal and Mike Ten hoeve for introducing unauthorized sales incentives during very unorthodox announcements, Mr. Furtney for putting up with the editor taking over part of your room, Garnet for letting us in our room after school, Mary Mar-rin our Jostens rep for keeping our spending urges to a minimum, the staff and Mr. Purves for putting up with many class interruptions, and finally Mr. Jensen our staff advisor - we're glad you survived us.

IN MEMORIAM

Bil Jennison

O, I have slipped the surly bonds of earth
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings.
Sunward I've climbed and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sun-split clouds - and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of - wheeled and soared and swung
High in the sunlit silence. Hovering there,
I've chased the shutting wind along and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air.
Up, up the long delirious, burning blue
I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grace
Where never lark, or even eagle flew,
And, while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The high untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand and touched the face of God.

JOHN GILLESPIE MAGEE

Left: 9:30AM. The library. Evan Tost, OAC history student, glances up from his investigations with the look of a man who is one with his books.

Below: Joe Bright, newspaperman extraordinaire, takes a break from taking pictures to get his mug photographed by the yearbook camera.

Right: Driver's Ed class has Lorraine Vandenburg smiling as she imagines life with a driver's licence. We can imagine all the dented fenders in the parking lot. Just kidding, Lorraine.
